To Whom It May Concern

Dear Sir/Madam,

I have had the pleasure of working with Marie Yossava in her role as Adrenalin Airtime Marketing's public relations consultant for the past two years.

During this period Marie has become an integral part of our business. Her proactivity, contacts with the media industry, editorial skill and business acumen have helped position Adrenalin Airtime Marketing as one of the leading media sales houses.

Marie, also produces Adrenalin's inhouse newsletter. This has always been professionally put together and is used internally as a successful communication tool.

Through Marie's media contacts, we are always offered the opportunity to respond to contentious issues and given space in the different trade publications to air our views.

Taking all of the above into consideration, I have no hesitation in recommending Marie for any position where the above criteria are an integral part of the business.

Please do not hesitate to contact me should you require any further information.

Yours sincerely,

Trevor Ormerod
Chief Executive: Sales & Marketing
