Dear Marie

I would like to take this opportunity of extending my most sincere appreciation to you personally and Grapevine Communications for your assistance in the formulation and ongoing support of the communications strategy of American Express Travel.

In particular I would like to thank Helen for the tremendous role she performs in proactively seeking communication opportunities for the company and also for the professional manner she manages our account.

As mentioned to you on several occasions, I have worked with a few Communication or PR companies but have not yet found any of them to provide the extremely professional level of service which Grapevine offers.

Thank you for your assistance and we look forward to an ongoing mutually beneficial business relationship.

Kind regards

Germaine van den Berg
